Leonardo is responsible for some of the world's most iconic helicopters flown by military and civil customers around the globe. Our innovations lie at the heart of some of the country's most advanced defence electronics and as a founding member of Team Tempest, we are defining technology that will shape the UK's next generation Combat Aircraft. Our cyber and security experts work 24/7 to protect the UK borders and Critical National Infrastructure. Our apprenticeship training programme last 2-5 years, depending upon the scheme, which results in their graduating with a substantial depth of skills in the area in which they have specialised.

We're hosting a one-hour online event on the 11th February at 6pm, where you can meet some of our female apprentices. Learn about their experiences and achievements and hear from our team responsible for looking after those who choose to begin their career with Leonardo. Click here to register.
